Heron Hill Winery welcomes new Winemaker, October 13, 2009

One of Long Island's brightest shining stars is coming to the Finger Lakes. Heron Hill Winery is excited to announce the arrival of their new Winemaker, Bernard Cannac. Bernard is a renowned Winemaker, recently of Castello di Borghese and Duck Walk Vineyards.

Bernard began his winemaking career at a family owned vineyard in France where he grew up. He worked at the family winery until he received his Enology degree from the University of Bordeaux, which allows him to carry the distinguished DNO designation, Diplôme National d'Oenologie and his MBA in International Commercialization of Wines and Spirits from the Ecole Supérieure de Commerce de Dijon. While at Galluccio Family Winery, his Chardonnay scored 90 points from Wine Spectator and as winemaker for Comtesse Therese Winery he was awarded "Best Merlot in NY" at the NY Wine & Food Classic.

Owner and grape grower, John Ingle, welcomes another great addition to the winery team. "I'm very enthusiastic about Bernard's arrival. The staff as well as the Ingle family is ecstatic about the expertise and world-class experience he's bringing to Heron Hill Winery."

Bernard will also be a regular contributor to the winery's already active blog. He'll take the lead with keeping the readers up-to-date with cellar news, new releases and special events he'll be participating in.
